The ideal printer to support working remotely

Easy printing at home with these compact printers from Ricoh

Looks great in your home office

Easy to set up, RICOH P C200W and M C240FW are small, compact and lightweight, making it an ideal device for your home office without taking up too much space. You can improve your productivity with improved workflows while working remotely and, with print speeds of up to 24 pages per minute, it will save you time too.

Easy and simple to replace AIO print cartridges

Working from home, you need a printer that is easy to maintain. RICOH P C200W and M C240FW printers feature AIO all-in-one print cartridges, which are easy to replace without the need to call in technical support, thanks to their front-access design.

Designed with ease of set-up and use in mind

Setting up your Ricoh printer is simple thanks to the set-up wizard, so you can start using your printer out of the box. With the paper and delivery trays accessible from the front of the machine, it's so convenient to use, and the colour touchscreen operation panel on RICOH M C240FW makes it super easy to operate. What's more, RICOH P C200W can easily be positioned on a shelf or in a cupboard to save even more space.

Connect to your office network with ease

With WiFi connectivity and mobile printing as standard, both models give you much of the functionality and productivity you have in the office. You can also use the AirPrint® and Mopria® apps in your Apple and Android smart device respectively for easy remote print management. RICOH M C240FW includes added full functionality such as colour and black-and-white printing, copying, scanning and faxing.
